Preface

The basic results of the 1958 General Election are in this booklet. Two years ago the Congressional Quarterly Weekly Report presented this arrangement of voting material for the first time. This year the figures have been expanded to include detailed Congressional District figures on the vote for Governor as well as on the polling for U.S. Senator and for Representatives.

All the data for this special CQ supplement have been gathered and computed by the Elections Research Center of the Governmental Affairs Institute in Washington, publishers of the biennial county-by-county elections handbook AMERICA VOTES and the wall chart ELECTOMAP. Under the supervision of Richard M. Scammon, the Institute's Director of Elections Research, official figures have been brought together from every state and from many local jurisdictions.

In gathering these official materials state officials and local elections administrators have been most helpful, in many instances supplying material down to the precinct and even the "less-than-precinct" level. To all those who helped in pooling these figures, Mr. Scammon and CQ extend their thanks.

1958 RETURNS SET STAGE FOR 1960 BATTLES

The detailed returns on the 1958 elections presented in this booklet set the stage for the 1960 Congressional election.

The districts that switched parties in 1958 and those that were won by narrow margins will be the main battlegrounds of the 1960 election.

Congressional Quarterly classifies districts into three groups, depending on the winning candidate's share of the vote:

- Doubtful Districts -- Won by less than 55 percent of the vote.

- Fighting Districts -- Won by 55 - 59.9 percent of the vote.

- Safe Districts -- Won by at least 60 percent of the vote, or without opposition.

As a result of the 1958 voting, the districts are classified this way:

1958	Democratic	Republican	Total
Safe	216	44	260
Fighting	23	48	71
Doubtful	44	61	105
Total	283	153	436

By contrast, this is how the districts were classified on the basis of the 1956 voting:

1956	Democratic	Republican	Total
Safe	151	104	255
Fighting	31	59	90
Doubtful	52	38	90
Total	234	201	435

The 105 current doubtful districts -- the focus of the 1960 House election campaign -- are distributed through 33 states. New York has the largest number of doubtful districts -- ten. Other states with many doubtful districts are: Indiana, eight; California, Iowa and Ohio, each with seven; Kansas, six; Illinois and Pennsylvania, five each; and Connecticut, Michigan, New Jersey, Washington and Wisconsin, each with four.

There are three doubtful districts in Massachusetts and Minnesota; two in Colorado, Maryland, Missouri, Nebraska, Utah and West Virginia; and one each in Delaware, Kentucky, Maine, North Carolina, North Dakota, Oklahoma, Oregon, South Dakota, Texas, Vermont, Virginia and Wyoming.

The doubtful districts are marked with asterisks (*) in the chart beginning on page 32.

Highlights of Returns

Some miscellaneous items of the 1958 elections turned up in Congressional Quarterly's statistical analysis:

- Seven Republicans and 12 Democrats were elected to the House by less than 1 percent of the total vote cast in the Congressional district races.

- Eleven Representatives won their seats with majorities of less than 1,000 votes: George A. Kasem (D Calif.), 603 votes; J. Edgar Chenoweth (R Colo.), 543 votes; Harris B. McDowell Jr. (D Del.), 698 votes; Robert B. Chipperfield (R Ill.), 945 votes; George E. Shipley (D Ill.), 187 votes; E. Ross Adair (R Ind.), 267 votes; Earl Hogan (D Ind.), 882 votes; Wint Smith (R Kan.), 233 votes; Thomas F. Johnson (D Md.), 718 votes; Thaddeus J. Dulski (D N.Y.), 726 votes; and Robert E. Cook (D Ohio), 967 votes.

- Only one Senator, Kenneth Keating (R N.Y.), was elected with a majority of less than 1 percent. Democratic Governors in Nebraska, New Mexico and Pennsylvania won with majorities of less than 1 percent, as did the Republican Governors of Rhode Island and Vermont.

- One governorship, one Senate seat and one House race were won by candidates polling less than 50 percent of the vote. In Wyoming, Gov. J. J. Hickey (D) won 48.9 percent of the total vote, defeating the Republican candidate who polled 46.6 percent and the Economy party nominee who took 4.4 percent of the votes.

Sen. Frank E. Moss (D Utah) won his Senate contest with only 38.7 percent of the vote in a three-way race against former Sen. Arthur V. Watkins (R) and former Gov. J. Bracken Lee (Ind.), Watkins polled 34.8 percent of the vote and Lee won 26.4 percent, which was the largest percentage polled by any independent or third party candidate in the 1958 election races.

Rep. Wint Smith (R Kan.) won 49.2 percent of the total vote cast in the Sixth District of Kansas, polling just 233 votes more than his Democratic opponent in a three-way race that included a Prohibition party candidate who polled over 1,600 votes.

- In 17 of the 35 Senate races, third party candidates opposed the major party nominees. In New Jersey six other party nominees went on the ballot opposing the major party candidates for Senator. The largest vote polled for a third party Senate candidate was for Corliss Lamont, Independent Socialist candidate for the Senate from New York.

- Minor party candidates were entered in about 20 percent of the House races. In the 13th District of New Jersey candidates of nine minor parties faced the Republican and Democratic nominees.

- Two of the 16 women Representatives were unopposed: Mrs. Iris F. Blitch (D Ga.) and Mrs. Elizabeth Kee (D W.Va.). Eight women received more than 60 percent of the vote: Gracie Pfof (D Idaho), 62.4; Marguerite Stitt Church (R Ill.), 67.1; Edith Nourse Rogers (R Mass.), 66.0; Martha W. Griffiths (D Mich.), 60.3; Leonor K. Sullivan (D Mo.), 79.2; Edna F. Kelly (D N.Y.), 64.3; Edith Green (D Ore.), 65.8; and Kathryn E. Granahan (D Pa.), 66.3.

1958 OFFICIAL VOTE IN EACH STATE, ALL CONGRESSIONAL DISTRICTS

Following is the official vote in each state in the 1958 election for Governor, U.S. Senator, and U.S. Representative as gathered from official state and local sources. In each state, the total statewide vote and the percentage of the vote received by candidates for Governor and U.S. Senator are given. Excluded from these figures are a few scattered write-in votes reported by some states -- in Nebraska, for example, 17 for Governor and 6 for U.S. Senator.

Listed separately, by Congressional District, are the vote and percentage won by candidates for Governor, U.S. Senator, and U.S. Representative in each Congressional District of each state. Within each state the candidates for Governor are listed first, those for U.S. Senator second, those for U.S. Representative third. An asterisk (*) before a candidate's name indicates he won either the statewide vote or led or won the individual Congressional District concerned, as indicated.

An "X" indicates either lack of opposition to a candidate or a minor candidate whose percentage of vote has been computed only on a statewide basis. Most minor party and independent candidates are in this category, although a few (such as McCord in Tennessee and Lee in Utah) were actually major candidates. If more than one minor candidate ran in a given contest, the total minor party vote is given as "other" in the district breakdown.

Percentage calculations are absolute, not rounded to whole numbers; therefore, some sets of percentages will add to 99.9 or 100.1 rather than the conventionalized 100.0.
